

Thanks to the generous donations from many adoptive families and the incredible support from our sister foundation Families for Families and Serita F., the Second Medical Mission held on October 5th was a complete success. Forty nine out of 50 women attended, and all of them were tested for cervical cancer. The name of the test is VIAA, and it was performed by Obras Sociales del Hermano Pedro, a hospital in Antigua Guatemala. When non-advanced abnormalities were detected, women were treated with cryotherapy during the same visit.

The selection of the birth mothers was based on their geographical location. A total of 49 women (out of 50 invited) from the south and south western regions were tested in the morning and the results were ready the same day. The costs covered were: The VIAA tests, round trip transportation, lodging and 2 or 3 meals, as required, and medicals.

As of March 30th, 2012, the total cost of the Second Medical Mission is: $1,969.49
